The Minden BIA is asking Anson, Hindon and Minden council to explain what they feel is a discrepancy in the balance of a municipal cash reserve for downtown improvements.

Representatives Stu Brandon and Gord Monk approached AHM council last Thursday.

"There seems to be a discrepancy...as to the funds generated for downtown repaving," began Monk. Reeve McKnight said there will be a report on the issue by next week's meeting.

In 1979, he said, when Lyle McKnight was a council member, "a resolution was passed (with Sinc Nesbitt as reeve) to put aside $25,000 a year for downtown improvements, with the recommendation that the practice would be followed by future councils."

Brandon brandished a March 19, 1980 copy of The Times in which the statement appeared. He was a member of council when the resolution was passed, he said.

The March 19, 1980 copy of the Echo reports quotes Reeve Sinc Nesbitt as saying "let's get on with rehabilitating the downtown. Let's not wait for an official plan and all the by-laws, which could take a year or two."

Money the Issue

However, while Brandon said he was certain $25,000 was earmarked for the BIA, the Echo article quotes him as saying that "council will make a commitment of between $20,000 and $25,000 to improve parking in the village, including parking signs and the acquisition of additional property for parking lot. The money will also be used to rebuild sidewalks on the main street."

The statements were made at a special meeting which ultimately resulted in the formation of the BIA.

However, said Monk, there's a problem with the cash reserve balance, which the municipality says is $60,000. "We're told it's $60,000 -- when in fact (it should be) $100,000," said Monk.

He said he felt the BIA had been "railroaded out of" between $20,000 and $35,000.

Monk outlined some of the accomplishments of the BIA -- including the commissioning of the CAUSE study (now the blueprint for downtown improvements) and obtaining a grant of $14,700 this year for street furniture, garbage receptacles "and our controversial signs."

Deputy-reeve Ed Pergolas said that the first installment of the $20,000 payments had been treated as normal revenue in the first year of the program, instead of going into a reserve. It went into normal revenue because it wasn't used, and the old council didn't give direction to the new council to place the funds into a reserve.

Reeve Lyle McKnight said he thought the original agreement called for $20,000 to be set aside annually -- but said council will "check into" the situation and "see what's gone wrong."

Going ahead

Monk made it clear that the BIA supports the current CAUSE - Plus study, and wants to make sure there are sufficient funds to carry it out. "We'd like to see $25,000 a year set aside," he said.

Deputy-reeve Pergolas said the CAUSE-Plus work might well have to be carried out in two stages.

He said the municipality is already planning to go after more grants for next year.

Monk agreed and hastened to say that the BIA has found council "very cooperative" over the years.

Crowds filled the Dysart arena Friday as the Fifth Annual Highland Home and Vacation Show -- a three-day event that wound up Sunday afternoon. Every booth at the show was sold out. There was plenty of prizes for those attending -- including a trip for two to a Blue Jays game (all expenses paid).

Developers eye a second resort site

Developers of a proposed multi-million dollar time sharing resort have changed their plans -- and now want to build at Outlet Bay, between Drag and Spruce Lakes.

Sherwood Developments had originally hoped to build at West Lake. However Sherwood's Larry Bailey told Dysart council Monday that the developers are now looking at the purchase of an existing subdivision.

Bailey said he felt the new site was "comfortable" for Sherwood's purposes -- a four-season, time-sharing resort of 33 units. The units are planned to be "rustic" in appearance on the outside, but will be modern on the interior, said Bailey.

He was on hand to ask for a re-zoning of the property. The property in question is now owned by Halcan Holdings, and is a registered subdivision with 23 lots.

Bailey said the "better quality" lots would be used for time-sharing, while the bulk would be used for standard seasonal-residential purposes.

Reeve Murray Fearrey expressed some concern about the change of plans. Unlike the West Lake site, the proposed new site would not be a site was to obtain good lakefront property.

The reeve said council would have to examine "the whole concept" of time sharing in more detail before moving on any re-zoning. The land is currently zoned seasonal-residential.

He said there were many factors

Time-sharing plan

"readily accessible" to the ski tows at Sir Sam's, he said. Plans called for a year-round resort, noted Reeve Fearrey.

"It's not right at the slopes -- but it would have good access to it," said Bailey. He added that snowmobiling and cross-country skiing could still be enjoyed, and said Sherwood's first priority in choosing for the developers to consider -- namely, the maintenance of township roads in winter, the effect of the added density on the two lakes, and the effect on the local water system.

The water supply for Haliburton village originates at Outlet Bay, he said.

The development capacity for Spruce Lake is set at 60 units, while Drag Lake's maximum capacity is 550, council was told.

The Ministry of the Environment and the Ministry of Natural Resources both have stated that the area is a prime lake trout fishery, and have said they would object to more severances dealt out without adherence to strict guidelines, the reeve said.

One of those requirements would be a 100-foot setback from lake high water levels, said Reeve Fearrey.

In view of the fact that developers are quite anxious to proceed, the reeve called a special meeting for June 27 at 2 p.m. to discuss the details of the proposed zoning change.

Under a time-sharing system, many owners would share the cost of a unit -- and would then share its use throughout the year.

Dysart considers moving baseball diamond

The council of Dysart et al is seriously considering moving the municipal ball diamond to Head Lake Park.

At Monday's council meeting council discussed the feasibility of the move, and took an inspection tour of the proposed new site. A new diamond could be located south of the river in the park.

Reeve Murray Fearrey said the next steps in the process would involve drafting a plot plan for the diamond, and entering into negotiations with CNR about the use of their old right-of-way for the diamond.

The location of the backstop would have to be considered carefully, so that the sun wouldn't shine in the eyes of the batters. But stop ball hurler Gary McKnight, Dysart's deputy-reeve, favored "a pitcher's park."

There would be, the reeve said, "more than adequate" parking for the diamond, room for proper bleachers, and the capability for a full-sized baseball diamond...with 340 feet down the power alleys.

The reeve said that the walls would be built at the correct distance "for minor baseball and adult softball" but added space would be left free behind the walls for future expansion, if necessary.

He said he anticipated some feedback from people "who might not want to see the old location changed," but stressed that the new site would help make more people use Head Lake Park.

"The park is not now being used to its full potential," he said.

He said the park is also a safer site -- since long ball hitters like Bernie Nicholls can now hit one-hoppers to the Legion door-step. Cars and people could be hit, said the reeve.

The old site -- once home to Haliburton's cricket club -- could be used to alleviate parking problems downtown, and in winter could house an outdoor rink.

The Haliburton Kinsman club has already expressed interest in the idea, said Reeve Fearrey.

He estimated the total cost of building an all-new facility at $30,000, and said the municipality would apply for a Wintario grant to help with finances.

Reeve Fearrey said the municipality would probably have to build all-new facilities (backstop and fencing) since the old ones could not be readily moved to a new site.

Agreement between Snowdon, McNeely to be re-written

Willis McNeely's agreement with Snowdon Township on proposed municipal joint funding of his seniors hostel is being re-drafted and is expected to be complete by Thursday.

Dysart council was brought up to date on the issue by municipal solicitor David Bishop.

The agreement, explained Bishop, will be re-drafted this week. Reeve Murray Fearrey said the next step would be its approval by the Ministry of Community and Social Services (COMSOC). It would then be reviewed again by Dysart before any approval is granted.

The areas of concern, said Bishop, include municipal responsibility for residents if the hostel was to cease operations; the need for there to be a doctor of record for the hostel, and the need for adequate space for all residents.

The first point is an interesting one. What is being determined is whether or not residents of the hostel would become residents of Snowdon if the home ceased running -- or if they would still be residents of their original municipality.

Lightning caused extensive damage at the home of Dr. Harry Good in Haliburton Friday night. Dysart fire crews responded within minutes -- but reports indicate the interior of the home was badly damaged.

OPP report

During the period between June 6 and 12, personnel at Minden Detachment investigated the following occurrences. General, 62; break and enters, five; thefts, 13; damage complaints, four; motor vehicle accidents, 13; and personal injuries, seven.

Single car accident

At 3:45 p.m., June 8, on Highway 121, William Nelson, 57, of Dundas, Ontario lost control of the 78 Chevrolet he was driving. The vehicle was eastbound on Highway 121, and the driver lost control on the south shoulder and skidded in a northerly direction across the highway, entering the rock-lined north ditch.

Estimated damage was $3,500. Investigated by Prov. Const. Wim magee.

Break-in

Sometime since Sunday afternoon, person or persons responsible, kicked in the door allowing entry into the main office of Curry Motors Body Shop. Stole was $150 cash, as well as numerous chocolate bars and potato chips. Entry was not gained into the body shop. Prov. Constable Jim Solway is investigating, assisted by No. 8 District Ident.

More jobs on the way

A number of municipalities in Victoria and Haliburton Counties will benefit from the statement by the Honourable James Snow that a job creation program has been developed covering a number of municipal roads projects, according to a statement released last week by Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins.

The money being made available by the province in cooperation with the local municipalities will result in the creation of jobs throughout the province and should certainly benefit the Victoria Haliburton area.

The projects range from sewer and garage construction to bridge repair and replacement and this should result in the creation of jobs for local citizens.

The following is a list of those areas in our two counties which will benefit: Victoria County, bridge repairs, $30,000; Fenelon Falls V., storm sewers, $60,000; Mariposa Township, culvert construction, $15,000; Ops Township, culvert construction, $4,000; Somerville Township, sand dome, $30,000; Verulam Township, sand dome, $26,000; Bicroft Township, bridge repair, $700; Cardiff Township, clearing and grading, $9,000; Glamorgan Township, garage improvement, $4,900; Glamorgan Township, machinery repair, $4,900; Glamorgan Township, culvert replacement, $1,100; Sherborne Township, road construction, $22,000; and Stanhope Township, road construction, $14,100.

AHM council meeting held

Anson, Hindon and Minden council met Thursday with Reeve Lyle McKnight in the chair.

Present were Deputy-reeve E. Pergolas, Councillors P. Burk, G. Kenney, and D. Stevens, MLEO - R.C. Schell, and clerk-treasurer E. Burke.

Resolutions
• Moved by D. Stevens, seconded by G. Kenney that the minutes of the meetings held on May 26 and June 2, 1983 be approved as circulated. Carried.

Gord Monk and Stuart Brandon of the Minden BIA board of management were in attendance regarding a possible discrepancy concerning the amount of funds presently set aside by the municipality into a reserve account for downtown improvements. The clerk-treasurer was authorized to report on this matter for the next council meeting.

Mr. Peter Hynard from the Ministry of Natural Resources was present at council's request to review the need for a tree-cutting by-law. The reasons that such a by-law has been passed by the county to apply to the township of Dysart et al are

Authority reports water down

Mainly dry conditions during the week ending June 11 resulted in declining flows and levels throughout the Trent and Severn Watersheds.

Haliburton Reservoir Lakes storage averaged 97 per cent on June 9, a drop of about three per cent since June 1. Flow reductions from these reservoirs have proceeded to the stage where base flows are being reached. The Kawartha have virtually no surplus now, and by this week drawing of stored water will probably begin due to the evaporation caused by the an-icipated sunny dry weather forecast for the weekend.

The Otonabee River flow has been reduced, over the week just ending, from 126 cubic meters/second to 46 cubic meters/second. Further cuts will probably follow over the coming week.

Local businesses are offered help

For the cost of a $35 dinner, 25 local businesses will receive aid from expert consultants on how to improve their operations -- help that might otherwise cost them between $300 and $1000 per day.

The aid is available through the Ministry of Industry and Trade's Small Business Development Program, and about 75 local businessmen and women crowded the Wig-a-Mog Inn last Wednesday night to learn more.

The keynote speaker was Ed Major of Beaumont, Major and Associates, the consulting firm that will be carrying out the program this summer. The program winds up November 24 with a dinner, at which time Major will make his findings known.

Times tough

"You don't need me to tell you that small business today is not easy...it never has been, and it never will be," began Major. The program, he said, will help owner/operators stop "burning the midnight oil" and use their time more wisely.

However, he warned that consultants won't be able to do much for businesses "with one foot in the grave...and if you've got two feet in the grave, we can't revive the dead."

"We can't help you with all your problems," he said. What consultants can do -- and normally charge up to $1000 a day to do -- is make suggestions for changes in such areas as financing, advertising, staff control, and inventory.

"We're not going to just give you a pat on the back," Major stressed.

"The only way we can help you is if you let us in on the nice and nasty factors -- you've got to tell us honestly what's wrong, and what's right," he said.

In one case, Major recalled finding that a businessman was a bootlegger -- and was using a fairly successful retail operation as "a front." The businessman was understandably reluctant to show his books -- but did when Major confronted him about the bootlegging.

Since the consultant's study, Major joked that the main "is a much more successful bootlegger than he ever was."

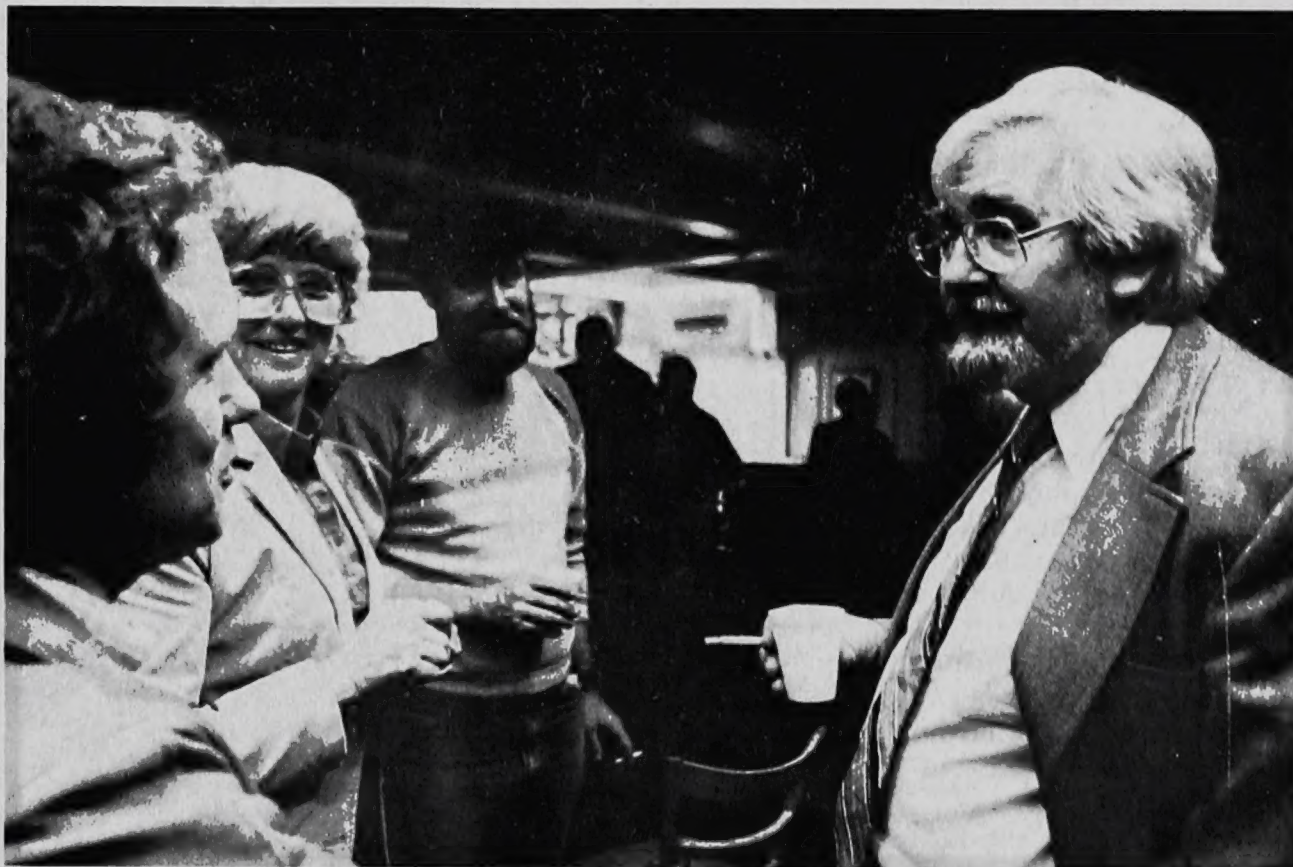

Questions

There were several questions from the floor. One gentleman asked if the consultants would aid with specific problems, and was told that could be accomplished.

Asked how successful his work had been with businesses, Major said that about 85 per cent of the suggestions his consultants have made have been carried out. As well, 87 businesses that appeared near the end of their rope were assisted -- and Major claims that 75 of them are still going out.

In all just about "two out of 800" businesses "went down," after consultants felt they wouldn't, he said.

He also said the measures his group would suggest would not be too costly to implement -- "we want to save you money," he said.

Consultant Ed Major chats with Bob Buckley of the Beaconbrook Hotel (left) following a presentation Wednesday night at the Wig-a-Mog Inn. At issue was a new government program, that will offer local businesses virtually free consulting aid during the summer.

Coun. Gary Kenney of Anson, Hindon and Minden asked Major if he had ever been retained by an area after a project was completed, and was told that had occurred several times.

In a brief interview after the meeting Major told the Echo that he was familiar with the economic problems of small business communities that are dependent on tourism. His group has worked in many such areas -- including Manitoulin Island and communities north of Lake Superior.

Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce secretary Bob Stinson said the program had been applied for three years ago by the Economic Development Commission, then a county-administered group. Since the EDC "is a committee of the Chamber" the program will be sponsored by them, he said.

Ministry official Peter Skinner said the program aims to aid local businesses in several areas.

"Consultants will come in and blanket the area for six months," he said. During that time they will meet regularly with 25 local business manager/operators -- a sampling to be selected by a Chamber standing committee.

Areas of concern included business planning, financial forecasting, advertising, the use of local professional help, selling and much more, he said.

The consultant's findings offer businesses "an outside look at your firm" and objective comments, said Skinner.

Skinner's advice to those who might be accepted into the program was that they give consultants time. As well, he stressed that all information gathered would be confidential.

Ed Major, said that even the notes made by his representatives will be destroyed after the program ends, in November. No company names will be used on reports sent to the ministry, he added.

AHM will study need for by-law

Anson, Hindon and Minden council has decided to set up a steering committee to gauge the need for a tree-cutting by-law in the municipality.

The decision followed a presentation by Peter Hynard of the Ministry of Natural Resources district office in Minden last Thursday.

Hynard pointed out that the present Dysart et al tree-cutting by-law is in fact a county by-law -- with all costs handled by the local municipality.

"Their (Dysart's) by-law had to be passed by the county...and there's nothing to prevent you joining," he told councillors. In other words, Hynard said, the county by-law could easily be amended to include AHM in its scope.

Benefits

Hynard listed three advantages to the by-law:

- it provides for the best use of quality timber on private land, and saves small-diameter trees from being cut down for fuel wood.
- Hynard noted that the most labor-intensive uses for timber involve large-diameter trees -- they are the best for sawmills and veneer plants
- it protects winter deer yards from future loss of hemlock
- it does not apply to residential land -- so in other words, if you had 1/2 acre of bush, you wouldn't have to adhere to the by-law, and would be free to cut trees for fuel wood.

Another advantage of the by-law is its aesthetic value, said the MNR expert. Cutting is banned within 50 feet of lakes and waterways within 50 feet of land zoned for residential use, and within 300 feet "of any river or lake on whose shores lands have been zoned for residential use by municipal zoning by-law."

Council questioned the diameters of trees safeguarded by the by-law. Maple, birch, basswood, ash, cherry, and spruce must be 12 inches in diameter before being cut. Hemlock must be 14 inches in diameter, and oak and pine 15 inches, according to the by-law.

Hynard said that the figures had been arrived at by a committee -- adding that he personally felt the diameters could have been made larger.

A 12-inch diameter log does not allow much recovery of "high grade material," he said.

Crown land

Reeve Lyle McKnight has in the past asked whether the by-law would be necessary in AHM, because of the large amounts of crown land within the municipality. He asked again whether there was enough private land in AHM to warrant legislation.

He also asked how the MNR "could justify clearcutting," which involves taking down trees less than "eight inches in diameter."

Hynard said such trees as poplar require direct sunlight, and for their growth clear-cutting is a good alternative.

Coun. Gary Kenney also raised the question of AHM's private land holdings. He asked if the county could enforce the by-law (Dysart now handles its own enforcement) and wondered whether participation in the by-law could lead to "more sophisticated forest management" in the future.

Hynard said Anson township, nearly 100 per cent Crown-owned could be "written off" as far as productive forest land is concerned. That would leave Hindon and Minden townships, and the latter has significant private-owned stands of maple, he said.

He suggested that some arrangement for enforcement between AHM and Dysart could be worked out if the former opts for the by-law. Currently, he said, Dysart's tree-cutting inspector works on a part-time basis.

The Haliburton County Forest Owners Association has secured a $112,000 grant for forest management, said Hynard, and in Victoria County a $250,000 grant has been secured for forestry.

Council decided at this point that the idea needed more study, and the suggestion to launch a steering committee -- aiming for a decision by the fall -- was made by Coun. Kenney.

Sinc Nesbitt, a former AHM and Stanhope reeve, was one man suggested for participation on the committee.

Dysart favors acid rain committee

It was a rather long day for municipal councillors at the Dysart chamber Monday.

Forestry

A letter from the organizers of the COED program was received, offering details about the $69,000 forest management program being carried out by four members of the Haliburton County Forest Owners Association.

The members involved include Elgin Stouffer, Canadian Haliburton Estates, Haliburton Forest and Wildlife, and Lee Blair. About 13 jobs were created for unemployed workers.

Dan Buhl is the project manager of the Dysart-sponsored project.

Acid Rain

Council has supported a request from the Mayor of Muskoka Lakes Township to attempt a multi-municipality committee to look into the local problems of acid precipitation.

Reeve Fearrey anticipated "some sort of serious action" by county council on this issue.

Mayor Sheila Hatch of Muskoka Lakes is proposing a committee consisting of members from Parry Sound District, Muskoka District, and the County of Haliburton.

Licensed patios

Council voted unanimously against the concept of licensed patios at restaurants in Haliburton's town plot.

Coun. Dorothy Baker had originally spoken in favor of the concept of "sidewalk cafe-styled patios" downtown -- but changed her mind when the matter came to vote.

The reeve said he felt the practice would open the door to downtown beer gardens.

However, he said he personally opposes the idea in the form he now understands it -- namely, that the patios could be open from noon to 1 a.m., and would be willing to listen to an alternate proposal.

On Tuesday, June 7, Harold and Bea Herlihey and Chester and Kay Schwandt entertained the above group of Rotarians and their wives at the home of Harold and Bea's son-in-law and daughter, Karl and Carol Jean Marcus of Thornhill. The occasion was "Home Hospitality" afternoon and evening during the Toronto Rotary International Convention. Guests were Dr. Harry Good, John and Linda Beachli of Haliburton who assisted with transportation from and to downtown hotels, District Governor Don and Barbara Whitfield of Orillia, District Governor (781) David and Alison Levey of Riverview, New Brunswick, Past District Governor Briggs and Marna Todd of Dallas, Texas, Dr. Harlan and Naomi Jensen, Thomas and Wilma Walsh and Marg McIntosh of Fort Meyers, Florida, Herbert and Madge Moke, of Pineolas, S.C., Michel and Lise Perron of LaSarre, Quebec, Robert and Maureen McCarthy of Crookwell, N.S.W., Australia (Robert was Governor's representative (leader) of the Group Study Exchange that visited our district from Australia in 1971), Jim and Marnie McQuarrie, Lindsay, Past District Governor Kirk and Jackie Isitt, Barstow, California and Chief Joseph and Maureen Kagho-Omomadia, Warri, Nigeria, Africa.

"I'm glad Ray Selbie is working on this," said Coun. Glen Hodgson. "He's an expert on constitutional law."

"What we're talking about," he added in jest, "is like having a passport to go to Snowdon."

Last week McNeeley appeared before AHM council.

He and by-law enforcement officer Dick Schell agreed to meet with COMSOC to clear up their concerns on the agreement.

McNeeley feels he must have an agreement (that the hostel will be supported municipally) before he can carry out any renovation or expansion work at the facilities.

However, Schell feels the opposite is true -- that renovation work should be complete and approved before the municipality enters into an agreement on the project.

McNeeley has asked Dysart, Stanhope, Snowdon, and AHM to offer financial support for the hostel, so that it could be eligible for provincial funding.

There are residents now living in the hostel from each of the municipalities.

A difficult choice for Dysart

Where does the responsibility of our elected officials lie? At Dysart council Monday the issue of public consultation before making decisions was raised once again.

Councillor John Parish suggested that a council vote on outdoor patios at local restaurants be delayed, until councillors had more of a chance to consult with ratepayers.

The reeve, on the other hand, said he felt council had been elected to make decisions, rather than farm them out.

Early in his term as reeve AHM's Lyle McKnight had wondered aloud why more public participation could not be sought.

It's true, of course, that few people attend council meetings unless they have a direct interest in the proceedings.

That's because the bulk of municipal decisions -- on such matters as road closings, severances, and the like -- are of concern to but a few ratepayers.

It's the more generalized stands -- such as on arcades, and on the issue of licenced outdoor patios -- that the people of Dysart and the village of Haliburton might be more interested in.

A Liquor Licence Board of Ontario Hearing is planned to deal with requests from several local businesses to operate outdoor patios.

Council seemed, at first, rather divided on the issue -- mainly because councillors all had a different mental image of where an outdoor patio might be.

The reeve, in particular, was opposed to what he called "beer gardens" on the village's main street. Coun. Dorothy Baker, however, seemed to picture a more Parisian setting -- with people enjoying a glass of white wine in the sun, under canopies.

However, the councillor changed her mind when the matter came to a vote, at first abstaining and then voting along with the majority.

The vote was against the principle of outdoor licenced premises -- but the reeve was quick to point out that the decision by council might have little or no impact on the LLBO hearing, and that his own personal objection was to a premise that would be open from noon to 1 a.m.

The reeve envisions a rowdy, outdoor-pub environment that might cater to drinkers, rather than diners.

Surely there's some compromise available here. The establishments proposing the outdoor gardens are all very reputable, superior dining rooms. Surely they would consent to some sort of limit on their patio's use.

Right now, the council is assuming the patios would be operated like any other licenced premise.

But if a limited licence to operate was sought -- or even a guarantee given by operators -- to ensure that the patios indeed kept their Parisian sidewalk cafe charm, perhaps the result would not be as undesirable as some members of council might think.

We await the LLBO hearings with interest.

A candidate's eye view

We are very privileged, this week to have some excellent photographs by Steve Dawson of the PC leadership convention in Ottawa over the weekend.

Even though our Echo pick was wrong (we had given the nod to Joe Clark) we can give you a unique look at the proceedings through the eyes of delegate Barb Dawson and photographer Steve -- who was equipped with a press pass and had access to all press areas.

The most interesting aspect of reporting the Dawson's trip to Ottawa was the discovery that, according to Barb Dawson, the convention was a very positive, very uplifting experience.

The spontaneous singing of the national anthem as the moment of truth approached did much to eliminate the orchestrated Americanism of the demonstrations -- at least in Barb Dawson's view.

There was more warmth, more unity, and more PC pride after the convention, she said, than press accounts would have us believe.

Victoria-Haliburton MP Bill Scott said Monday's caucus meeting was a tour de force for the party, and all Tory eyes look forward to the next general election with renewed hope.

It would seem then, that if that is the case, the PC party seems quite set to back its new leader, Brian Mulroney. We can only sit back and watch what happens next -- with the election, after all, just 18 months to two years in the future.

Home Show a steady success

The Fifth Haliburton Home Show is now history. Crowds were steady throughout the weekend -- and every booth in the show was sold out.

The organizers are to be congratulated for a job well done.

Many exhibitors, however, said the "sale" aspect of the Show should be mentioned more prominently in advertising next year. The show was kept to a respectable size -- it didn't fill two buildings, as before -- and those attending it had little problem getting around from exhibit to exhibit.

Board levy unacceptable: reader

Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to the Haliburton County Board of Education by J.G. Strickland, president of the Federation of Ontario Cottagers Associations. Copies were also sent to Premier Bill Davis, Bette Stephenson, Frank Miller, Dysart et al, and FOCA.

Dear Sir:

We have received our 1983 tax bill from the Municipality of Dysart et al reflecting an 11.1 per cent increase in education taxes as compared to 1982.

This is completely unacceptable.

In this time of fiscal restraint, six per cent and five per cent and all that, how come the board of education comes in with an increase like this with absolutely no explanation whatsoever?

What is the reason for this increase?

How does your 1983 budget compare to your 1982 actual costs by costs centre?

In what cost centre areas of your budget are the increases taking place?

What is the board of education doing to reduce costs and effect savings?

What is the process for compiling, reviewing and approving the education budget?

When and where are the public meetings held, at which time the proposed budget is debated and available for public scrutiny?

Can we get a copy of your 1983 budget and 1982 cost report?

It is recognized that someone must pay for education and as long as we have the present tax structure and until we have major tax reform, it's sock the poor property-owner time, regardless as to whether he is a permanent or seasonal resident, has children or no children, uses the facilities or not, and so on.

A random sampling of our tax bills over the last few years shows the following increases:

1975 plus 25.0 per cent
1976 plus 26.7 per cent
1978 plus 12.8 per cent
1979 plus 7.8 per cent
1980 plus 12.3 per cent
1981 plus 9.6 per cent
1982 plus 9.9 per cent
1983 plus 11.1 per cent

Our education tax bill is 62 per cent of the total tax bill on our cottage.

Pray tell sir, where will it end and what's being done about it?

We would appreciate hearing from you in this regard.

Yours truly,
J.G. Strickland

Kenney asks for 1983 salary data

To the Editor:

In fairness to the Haliburton County Board of Education, I should point out that following our meeting of council with AHM trustees Berry and Sisson, the salary schedule for board administrative staff that had been previously denied to us was released the next day upon my request to the Board office.

Apparently, however, the schedule released and now held by our clerk-treasurer as a public file is the 1982 schedule, and not the current one. I will be requesting the 1983 schedule from the Board along with the applicable expense allowances budgeted for 1983, and actual expense allotments made to administrative staff in 1982. I anticipate the same cooperation that has already been extended to us will continue in this regard.

Feir Play

Creighton Feir

It won't be too much longer before we will be wondering what we are going to be doing here in the Highlands of Haliburton in what is better known as the good old summertime. For all those who will be coming here to vacation and to those who live here the year round, it means different things when it comes to recreation. For many of us it means that time of the year when we can go swimming, play golf, tennis, baseball, go boating and water skiing, hiking, oh yes, even hockey at the local arena.

These are only a few of the different things that one can do here during those sunshine summer days. Those lazy, crazy, hazy days of summer will be with us until the end of August and we can look forward to thousands of visitors coming into the Highlands of Haliburton to either camp, stay at a resort or motel, visit relatives or stay at a cottage.

In looking over the list of events for the entire year of "What to Do and See in 83" in the Highlands of Haliburton which have been printed on local shopping bags in cooperation with the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce I can assure you that it's going to be a summer packed full of practically every kind of entertainment in all parts of the Highlands of Haliburton. The summer is really a beautiful time of the year with nice warm weather that gives everyone interested the opportunity to take part in outdoor sports, go swimming or boating or just plain hike and walk through the bush. Besides these things providing some real good exercise it's just a wee bit of heaven here on earth. The Haliburton Highlands is where it's at and we have it all here just waiting for your arrival, so why not come along, bring the entire family and enjoy two or three months of nature at its rugged best.

It would appear that we are gradually pulling out of the recession and we can expect to see more dollars floating around in the next few months. When this money gets in circulation then everyone benefits. There is one thing that we can practically guarantee and that is the fact that many students when they get out of school this year are going to find it very hard to get jobs. We hate to see this but some of these students are going to be disappointed. There will be the usual battle for the tourist dollars between us and other areas, so this is why that more than ever before we as citizens must go out of our way to welcome them into our midst and make them feel right at home.

When the vacationers do arrive here in the Highlands how they are treated and how they are welcomed here will depend a great deal on people just like you and me. If they like it here they will stay, spend money and we hope, return another year. In other words we have to deliver the service if we expect to get the business.

I received a short letter and brochure from a good friend in Bobcaygeon letting me know that the 1983 edition of the Ontario open-fiddle and step dance contests are set for the Bobcaygeon-Verulam Community Centre in Bobcaygeon on July 22-23, 1983. Once again Art Jamieson of Beachburg, Ontario will be returning as Master of Ceremonies.

A Haliburton woman phoned me just the other day asking me if I would convey the following message to our readers and especially dog owners. Summer will soon be with us and along will come those hot and humid days and people are reminded not to leave their dogs in their cars with the windows closed as the inside of the vehicle gets hotter than an oven. This seems like a good bit of advice that should be adhered to.

We have had many thunderstorms in the Haliburton area in the past but none came with the wallop of that which hit the area last Thursday evening. The lightning that followed put many local television sets out of commission including my own and the cable in Haliburton was also out of operation for a few hours. Lightning that struck at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H.E. Good in Haliburton caused a great deal of damage to the home including a great deal of smoke and water damage.

It was a long time coming but we finally got a nice warm clear skies weekend. We hope this is the start of better things to come as we have suffered through some very bad and miserable rain soaked weekends.

The Fifth Annual Home and Vacation Show sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of Haliburton and held at the Haliburton Arena over the weekend is now history. The show drew hundreds of people into the arena and everyone seemed to be quite happy with the show. Next year the Kinsmen Club hope to enlarge on the big weekend with more music and entertainment for those who are attending. The biggest complaint seemed to be that the Home and Vacation show was poorly advertised and the Kinsmen have promised to rectify this matter another year. The show is a good idea and we wish the Kinsmen the best of luck with it in the future.

Lou Consky, owner of the two local theatres told me this week that he has an outstanding lineup of first run films coming up this summer at the Molou Theatre in Haliburton and the Beaver Theatre in Minden. He is kicking the season off with the big picture of the year "Return of the Jedi" which starts on Wednesday, June 22 and runs through until July 7.

Report from Parliament

Bill Scott, M.P.

Regional development a pressing concern: Scott

One of my duties as a Parliamentarian is to sit on House of Commons committees which discuss legislation and estimates. I have been sitting on the standing committee on regional development for some time now. We have most recently been considering the 1983-84 spending estimates under regional economic expansion.

On May 26, at my request, the executive director of the Canadian Advanced Technology Association appeared as a witness before the committee. I had the opportunity of directing some questions to Mr. Long after his opening statements. The text of our conversation is as follows:

Mr. Scott [Victoria-Haliburton]: All right. How will this high tech industry affect the small business community, the gas station operator, the fellow that probably will employ whatever your estimation or whatever you classify as small business? How will that affect him? He may have a little industry.

Mr. Long: I think he will get bigger. There will be more of them. I think what you will find is...For example, the local software company, the local circuit board manufacturer, and I would dare say, if one was prepared to look, you could probably find a local businessman who is "high-tech industry" in any community over 30,000 in this country who is totally ignored by his municipality. If he was encouraged to grow, then the people who supply his cars with gasoline would have more business - maintenance, the supplies to his offices, etc. New businesses are created simply to supply the needs.

Let me give you an example. High tech is so different from what we have experienced that we, as an association, have to do things that are so different. We created an employee benefits program, not because we wanted employee benefits, but because our companies could not get from the insurance industry any acknowledgement that they were different; that their engineers were travelling all over the world of which the insurance industry has defined about two-thirds as being war zones where your policy is null and void - Jamaica, Northern Ireland, the Middle East. They had not examined their actuarial rates. They were not prepared to treat employees equally. If you were an employer at Mitel and wanted to treat your employees around the world equally, because they have the world divided up, you could not treat your employees in the Caribbean in the same way with the same benefits as your employees in Canada.

What this did was challenge local entrepreneurs, business people, in employee benefits, who have developed programs; and as a result we have over 10,000 employees in that program now. Small business has helped us do it through innovation by relating to us and helps small business, for example those companies under 50 who could not get those programs.

So in areas across the country, everywhere you turn, the emphasis is placed on the high tech lawyer, the high tech accountant. By that I mean that the lawyer is prepared to set precedent, who has become knowledgeable about world activities and can advise a company setting up subsidiaries abroad, and so on.

So there is a tremendous opportunity. I think you are going to find the nature of production changes. You are going to find small systems houses which give you fast turnaround and carry the investment, a printed circuit board manufacturer that...prototypes your cases, and industrial design. All of these things are going to be done in small companies which all have continued to grow. But I think we have to look at it very positively and not look at it from a negative point of view.

Mr. Scott [Victoria - Haliburton]: Thank you very much. If I may ask the question. You have mentioned the surf board industry twice. There are not that many surf board manufacturers in Canada, to my knowledge. I happen to have one in my riding, which is north of Newmarket in the Sutton area, but you would have no knowledge of that. Now, this is just a question of interest; I was asking, that was all. He has had a lot of problems in the surf board industry, but, anyway, probably you have no knowledge of that.

Anyway, I am one that also believes in the profit-sharing business and I think that is where we bring productivity to our industry and peace to the labour force.

But you see instilling, then, the profit-sharing -- an incentive, as I call it -- with high tech into the smaller industry -- well, into all industries. Is that what I have gathered from a statement that you have made?

Mr. Long: Yes, implicitly I am saying that we are shifting at this point where the advantage from jobs and business is accruing to people who are self-motivated, who perform, who are achievers. Those people are motivated by the opportunity to be rewarded, and this means that there is a propensity within a high tech company -- and I cannot speak for the long term because it is all so new...to recognize that your most important product is your people. Unlike conventional industry, where you treat labour as units of labour, interchangeable, this is not true in high tech.

From the Chamber

Chamber overwhelmed by response to program

Ministry program over subscribed

The public meeting held last week at Wig-A-Mog Inn to inform members about a Ministry of Industry and Tourism Program called "Small Business Management Development Program" was well attended by a very attentive group of business men. At the conclusion of the meeting those wishing to participate in the program were asked to indicate this, and 43 of them did so.

The steering committee will be meeting this week and wrestling with the problem of selecting 25 from this list that will be eligible to participate. It is certainly indicative of how well-suited such a program is to our area that the response was so overwhelming. The committee immediately asked if there was a chance of extending the limit beyond the 25 and although the changes are somewhat remote there still is a chance that this could happen.

At the same time the Chamber requested his assistance in calling on members to explain our new Shop and Deal in the Highlands campaign. In the limited time available to Walter he was successful in not only selling every available booth space in the home show but also putting together member merchants who are offering a total of $550 in discounts in our new shop and deal discount booklet.

Queen's Park

John Eakins, M.P.P.

Eakins supports more off-road vehicle regulation

I fully support legislation to regulate off-road vehicles. It has been evident for a long time that control has been needed over trail bikes and other related motorized off-highway vehicles. Mandatory registration and mandatory vehicle licence plates are required if damage to public property is to be controlled.

The registrant must be 16 years of age or over, and be required to pay a one-time registration fee valid for the lifetime of the holder.

Every vehicle will be issued a permit and plate which will remove any question of identification of vehicle owners. Off-road vehicles will be defined as motorized two and three-wheeled vehicles not specifically exempt by regulation.

Public liability insurance will be required for these vehicles, except if they are used exclusively on the vehicle owner's private land. If requested by police, operators must provide personal identification. Approved helmets must be worn at all times, except on the owner's property.

There will be provisions to exempt self-propelled implements of husbandry, road-building machines, golf carts and vehicles for the physically disabled under this act. Remote sections of northern Ontario will be exempt from the mandatory provisions of the act.

I support this bill in principle and look forward to speaking on its content once it is introduced into the House. Many people have complained to me about nuisance and damage to property caused by many kinds of unidentifiable machines. Many municipalities and groups have joined in asking for legislation, such as the Association of Municipalities of Ontario and the Ontario Good Roads Association.

I am convinced that without controls, operators of off-highway vehicles will continue to annoy local residents and in cottage areas in a variety of ways. Injury and death have already taken their toll and hopefully this legislation will help in that control.

New parks policy makes Ontario people "winners"

by ARLIN HACKMAN
Fed. of Ont. Naturalists
In May 1978 the Ontario government approved a parks policy designed to protect a comprehensive system of natural areas second to none. Since then conservationists have pressed for action to fulfill this promise. On June 2, 1983 the government responded with a landmark commitment to establish 155 new parks over the next two decades.

Together, these areas will more than double the number of Ontario parks, increasing the total area reserved by more than 40 per cent to something in excess of six million hectares. New parks are to be located in every region of the province, though concentrated in the mid-north, and in every class the policy contains. There are to be five new and one enlarged wilderness parks, 74 nature reserve parks, 25 plant communities and unique glacial features, to remnant herds of woodland caribou and the wilderness landscapes of virgin boreal forest. It is still a bit early to gauge the overall public response. But preliminary reactions to this sweeping commitment among individuals and interest groups most involved in the controversy, have ranged from mildly critical to largely positive. And that's good news for Alan Pope, the new, young minister of natural resources responsible for parks, who has drawn fire from northern communities for other resource decisions. Conservationists have been delighted by the quick designation of the five new wilderness parks, applauding Pope for his decisiveness and thoughtful assessment of the merits of all the arguments in mapping out a political compromise among the competing interests of resource users. At the same time, the parks package contains several disturbing features. Ninety of the original 245 candidate parks reviewed by the government have been dropped without replacement. Many of those which waterway parks, 35 natural environment parks, three historical parks, and 12 recreation parks. Of greatest importance, of course, is the protection which these new parks should provide for the incredibly diverse and dwindling natural heritage Ontarians share, ranging from rare plant communities and unique glacial features, to remnant herds of woodland caribou and the wilderness landscapes of virgin boreal forest. It is still a bit early to gauge the overall public response. But preliminary reactions to this sweeping commitment among individuals and interest groups most involved in the controversy, have ranged from mildly critical to largely positive. Seniors crush Carnarvon

by LORI DEAN

There was lots of action in the Haliburton County Ladies Softball League last week. There was a total of six games played.

On Monday night four teams hit the diamond in local play. The league leading Minden Seniors journeyed to Carnarvon and came home winners in a lopsided 31-3 win. Lori Brown had a perfect night at the plate with eight hits for eight tries at bat. Jane Symond also hit well for the Seniors. Ann Hewson was the winning pitcher in this one with Lil Gorveatte the loser.

Also on Monday night West Guilford and the Minden Juniors did battle and Guilford came out on top doubling the score on the Juniors 12-6. Cheryl Cooper and Bethany Woods were the top hitters for Guilford while Wendy B and Anita Beaver were the best for the Juniors. Joan McKay was the winner in this one and Cheryl Dillon and Andrea Burk shared the loss.

Over in aliburton, the Haliburton Juniors got their first win of the season at the expense of the Wilberforce IGA team. Wilberforce took the lead with six runs in the first and second inning, but the gutsy Juniors fought back and defeated Wilberforce 10-9. Miriam Smith and Tracy Harrison collected two runs each for the Juniors, and Cindy Ablett and Kris Storey crossed the plate three times each for Wilberforce. Marg Smith was the winning pitcher and Sue Musclove took the loss.

Tuesday evening the Haliburton Seniors played West Guilford in a very exciting game. The Seniors took the lead by a 2-0 score in the second inning but Guilford came back in the fourth to tie the score at 3-3. The Seniors took the lead back in the fifth with good bats from Shirley Hewitt, Betty Whiteway and Kim Roberts. This, coupled with some costly Guilford errors gave the Seniors the win by a score of 10-6.

Cheryl Cooper and Linda Sisson hit well for the losers but it was too late to stop the Seniors from collecting their third win of the season.

Wednesday evening, Wilberforce played a get even match with the Haliburton Juniors. It was a real slug fest as Wilberforce defeated the Juniors 23-22. Wilberforce trailed at bat most of the game but came from behind in the last inning to take the win. Pam Iles, Marla McNaull and Tracy Harrison all hit home runs for Haliburton while Jo Olszewski, Sue Musclove and Rhonda Walsh collected four runs each for Wilberforce.

By the end of the week the Minden Seniors had added two more points to their total when they defeated the Haliburton Seniors in a previously rained out game. This contest ended 10-3 for Minden. Barb Barnhart and Lori Brown had a good night at the plate for Minden and Wanda Scott and Nancy Maughan were big hitters for Haliburton. Nelda Cully was the winning pitcher for Minden.

Soccer team posts shutout victory

The Dixie Lee soccer team won their first game of the season last Sunday in Parry Sound. It was a very satisfying win not simply because it was the first win because Parry Sound is the farthest town in the league but because a team that has been "bombed" gained a shut-out. Perhaps the full-backs benefited from the narrower Parry Sound field.

Certainly, the substitute goalie, Terry Crowe, played very well. His best save came in the second half when an opponent broke clear to the left of the penalty spot but was surprised when the goalie dived at his feet and stole the ball. This may have broken the momentum Parry Sound was building. Not only did the defence play well but the offence scored three goals, their best total to date. Dwayne Warburton scored the first goal with a high shot from outside the left corner of the penalty box. Scooter Burgess scored the second goal by outrunning the goalie to a loose ball behind the defence. Finally with six minutes left in the game Khvan Phan scored out of a melee from close in. Dixie Lee won 3-0 against a team that was reported to be strong. Parry Sound won the championship last year but have a 3-2 win-loss record this season. Dixie Lee is now 1-4. The team will practice in Minden this Thursday at 7:00 p.m. and play Orillia City at 2 p.m. this coming Sunday in Haliburton.

management. Master planning for the 230 acre property began a year ago, when preliminary goals and objectives were developed. Following this initial step, a team of university students was hired for the summer of 1982 to do a detailed study of the property including its history, vegetation, wildlife and geology. Throughout the past winter, Authority staff analyzed the information and determined the various uses which would be best suited for the area. From this analysis, as well as from public input at the last public meeting in January, the master plan was drafted. In the plan, the property has been divided into three zones. The Nature Reserve Zone would be set aside for undisturbed plant and wildlife use, with human interference kept to a minimum. The proposed Resource Management Zone would receive passive use, in the form of trails and nature appreciation.

Congratulations!

The irony to the questions asked, etc., is that the high tech industry or the knowledge-based industry is the most human-oriented industry that the world has ever seen, the reason being that it is absolutely nothing if those human beings do not come back tomorrow. You can have a $50-million, $100-million, $200-million company, but if the key people do not come to work tomorrow it is dead because by the time you recruited new people in a time cycle of conception to market in three years you would never bring them up the stream fast enough.

So it is vital that you attract, motivate and retain people, and implicit in the type of people that we are talking about are egos - there is no question about it. They work around the clock, but they expect to be rewarded for their efforts. So cost sharing programs, employee stock programs, programs which get the family involved in the realization that the family is a support unit to the individual who works in the company...

The opportunities for women, for example, are incredible, the reason being that the company has to put its money on performance, not on past stereotypes or credentials or whatever. So you will find, particularly in the area that women have gravitated to in recent years, like computer sciences, etc., they represent a resource which these companies cannot ignore. We need more and more emphasis on that capability. I would submit that, with the growth of this industry, if it cannot get those people out of university it will seek them wherever they are - in the home or elsewhere - to contribute in some fashion.

Mr. Scott (Victoria - Haliburton): Is this not applying in Japan and has applied in Japan for a number of years where one family will be involved with one company for generations upon generations?

Mr. Long: Yes and no. I think in Japan they have a different set of problems, a different set of opportunities. At this point in time, by deciding to upset the world balance by becoming Japan Incorporated, by hocking product to build wealth, which gives them the option to do things, and deciding to be the first to introduce something, they are quite able to put all the rest of the world off balance.

My understanding of Japan, while you are correct in terms of an employee literally working for a company forever and not having, on one hand, to worry about ever being employed...having performed, he will be there...is that because of their historical background women are still not seen to be in any way equals and, while they may join a company, they are expected to go, after a couple of years, back into the home. I do not think that type of activity is going to stand useful for Japan in the long run.

Mr. Scott (Victoria - Haliburton): Mr. Chairman, Mr. Long spoke about the changing in merchandising in the service given in the Canadian Tire store he used, whether it be lineups...How do you work that in? What do you do with the merchandise? You said more personal service.

Mr. Long: I think what you are going to get is a differentiation. The people who are in world demand who earn top salaries are going to demand more and more personal service. I think someone whose time is worth the type of money that the person is getting - or in terms of his free time, to rejuvenate - is going to demand and pay for the type of service that we used to have. He does not want to spend his time wandering around a hardware store trying to find something which he does not know exists, if someone who has experience can say, this is the tool you want, and so on; or his tailor, for example.

Mr. Scott (Victoria - Haliburton): And that is a direct opposite to where we are going then today. It is put out on a counter; you find what you want, and take it to the cashier.

Mr. Long: I think it is the opposite in merchandising to the extent that Canada has a capability in the field I am speaking of. I go back to the point: Do not lose sight of the fact that our problem in Canada stems from an inherent policy problem. Our problem is that we have always worked on the assumption that our natural resources will create the wealth that at surplus will allow us to buy these luxury goods, these products, etc., productive equipment, machinery or whatever, from someone else.

In high technology, the net result is that we are now awakening to the fact that our companies are not productive. But we have not created a policy of creating the technologies here that will make them productive. So we have to ransom, you know, mortgage everything to raise the money to buy Japanese technology to put in our companies to make them more productive, because we do not have, a Canadian option, and we are exporting jobs in that process. So, this scenario that I am speaking of - cafeteria workers, or carriage trade, or specialized - will not occur here unless we have people who are earning the type of money they could earn as a caretaker of a plant it is producing, they are not going to earn that money.

When I have made the ultimate exit
As all who live inevitably go
From this sad world of labour, care and woe,
Will someone say, with glance perplexed and queer,
"I thought that fellow passed away last year."

When I, translated to the final rest,
Am carried out with no chance to protest
From where soft music floods the polished rooms,
Midst bending palms and highly scented blooms,
Will someone say before the day grows dim,
"Who was the jerk? I don't remember him."

When I, like other mortals, disappear,
Lie prone without complexion, breath or fear,
Shrunk like a bargain cloak and fading fast,
A feature of the wax-works show at last
Will someone say, as off the coaches drive,
"I never knew the tramp was still alive."

Time may be short

You cannot be sure what tomorrow may bring,
Life's such a fragile and uncertain thing,
So do not postpone what ought to be done,
For some day your time here on earth will be gone.

Show that you care for your fellow man
By doing whenever, whatever you can,
A visit, a letter, a call on the phone
May brighten the life of someone alone.

Forgive and forget wrongs done by others,
Your spirit and soul a grudge surely smother;
Be thankful and count all the blessings you've known,
The caring your family or kind friends have shown.

When you think a good thought follow it through,
You may never know how much good it will do,
When you have good intentions put them in action,
True contentment you'll find and deep satisfaction.

Question of Identity

Who am I? I would ask "Who asks?"
For I will be in relation to who you are,
Drop the social stamp, the impersonal masks,
The question's one of character.

Again, I measure by affinities,
Your rejection or acceptance in all or part,
Your indifference or your sympathies,
Your capacity in mind and heart.

To each of you, and by degrees another person,
As each of you will be to each,
Moving from the stranger near to clone,
So far apart or lovingly in reach.

Senior League

by BERT HARRISON

To start off my letter this week at Hyland Crest, I would like to tell you of the service Sunday night and our special guest. The Thompsons came to do their part, with their help we are truly blest. Then Heather Bowron who is joining the Friendly Ministry with headquarters at Colorado Springs, but they travel all over witnessing for the Lord. The residents gave her two months church collection to help to pay her board. Heather gave her testimony and sang for us twice which was really nice. Then Rev. Burgess spoke briefly. He had a very busy day, he had a service at Eagle Lake, one at Haliburton then back to Hyland Crest. We hope he went home and had a real good rest. Well folks it looks like rain again. For this there is a reason, there must be, I guess we will call it the wet spring of '83.

Monday morning down at fun and fitness, Violet Deum won at darts, for all of us to witness. Linda English and family went on a fishing trip this past weekend, to try to catch some trout, got bogged down in the awful mud and had to get pulled out.

Tuesday morning Rev. Elliott of Minden Anglican church along with his assistant Rev. Dennis Dolloff held a very interesting service in the chapel here. Rev. Dolloff said he liked coming to talk to us, we seemed so sincere. We thank you both for coming and bringing some sunshine our way, and we thank Fred Ballard for coming the music to play.

Tuesday night our entertainers came all the way from Grass Lake, with fiddle, mandolin and accordion, grand music they did make. With Kathy at the piano and Earl on the fiddle, take your partners by the hand and all join in the middle. When Kathy played the accordion some good old hymns to sing, we thank them for coming, much pleasure they did bring.

We have a member on the kitchen staff named Phyllis Sutherland, here is someone who deserves a real good hand. She comes to work some days feeling awfully tough, she is afraid if she doesn't come they won't have help enough.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor MacBrien have come to Hyland Crest, we hope they will like it here, we're sure they will fare the best. We have known Victor as in days of yore, they will be living in 102 and we in 103 on the same floor. We are happy to have Mrs. Eastman back again as cheerful as can be after being hospitalized for eye surgery.

Thursday afternoon was a busy time here at Hyland Crest, the Minden UCW served the tea party, which was a real success. This it being our wedding anniversary day, Rev. John Phillips of Haliburton and his assistant Julie Kennedy came to sing and play. They entertained us royally with music and with song, God bless you both we'd like to say, for giving us this happiness on our anniversary day. Sorry to report Mrs. Shuyler is in Minden Hospital, we hope it won't be long when she will be feeling better and back with us again.

Our entertainers came on Friday afternoon, Norma to play the music and Grace to lead the tunes. Grace sang a couple of solos, read poems two or three, then we sang "The more we get together the happier we will be."

While our cleaners work to keep our home so clean inside, our men are working cutting grass, planting flowers, trimming trees, cleaning windows, etc. to keep it nice outside.

No vision and you perish. No ideal and you're lost. Your heart must ever cherish some faith at any cost.

Some hope, some dream to cling to, some rainbow in the sky; Some melody to sing to, some service that is high.

This summer's boat tours

Two excellent boat tours are available for our many visitors to the Highlands this summer and we would suggest that you write down the times for future reference. The Highland Queen cruises Lake Kashagawigamog daily and departs from the Deer Lodge dock every day at 2 p.m. (weather permitting). The cruise lasts one hour and costs $4 for adults and $2.50 for children.

Muskoka Boat Tours operates a tour on Lake of Bays running two and one half hours which leaves from the government dock at Dorset at 2:30 each day. Their fees are $7.50 for adults and $3.00 for children.

Both of these boats are available for private charter by groups or organizations.

More publicity

Last week we talked of the excellent coverage given to the unveiling ceremonies at last month's county council by CKCO TV, the Globe and Mail and the Star. We have been reminded that CKVR in Barrie, CKLY in Lindsay, and the Lindsay Post, also gave us excellent coverage and we apologize for not mentioning them previously.

New parks policy

remain have shrunk dramatically. Losses are particularly heavy in the south, close to population centres. But the list of deletions also includes large nature reserves in the far north and the proposed Alneau Peninsula Wilderness Park. Since the roster of 245 areas fell far short of meeting the Ministry's own policy targets, Pope's announcement remains but the first step towards a complete park system. Then too, there is no clear timetable, or legal obligation binding the government to designate the 155 approved parks.

A second major compromise is that the government has chosen to allow, by regulation, mining, hunting and commercial tourism to expand in wilderness parks and others without apparent constraint. Only logging will be prevented. Pope acknowledges this to be a significant departure from the government's policy and it certainly flies in the face of public opinion.

It remains to be seen whether this unwarranted concession, and the prospect of recurring park management debates it raises, will be resolved in favour of proper management to protect Ontario's natural areas.

But for the present at least Mr. Pope's promises makes June 2, 1983 the most important day in the history of parks. Every citizen of Ontario should feel a winner.

Convention was marvellous experience

"It was more than interesting...it was fascinating, a marvelous opportunity to see democracy in action."

That's how Progressive Conservative party delegate Barb Dawson of Haliburton summed up her weekend trip to Ottawa to vote for a new PC leader.

She began as a Michael Wilson supporter after arriving in Ottawa an undecided voter. After the first ballot, she switched to Mulroney and supported him throughout the day.

She said she was very pleased to see that there was "no unpleasantness...delegates were never harassed." In all, the convention wound up "unifying the party," she said.

"Bill Scott told me Monday that there was a really good feeling at the first PC caucus meeting," she said.

All the provincial premiers were on hand (except for Premier Brian Peckford of Newfoundland, who sent an aide) and all the MP's as well...he said there was "a terrific feeling in the place today."

Also attending was son Steve Dawson, who was given a press pass and took the excellent pictures that appear on these pages.

The Haliburton resident was slightly taken aback by the frenzied activity in Ottawa.

As she registered (and had her picture taken for her delegate's identification card) she "suddenly was surrounded...by the media." Former PC leader Joe Clark was behind her -- patiently waiting to register.

She had, over the course of the campaign, met all the front-running candidates.

As an undecided delegate, she was constantly "being called in the morning" and found information "slipped under the hotel room door."

"I have never had so little sleep in a night before in my life," she laughed. There was a lot of unity -- people would "talk to you on the street, in the elevator...anywhere" because "they were

was the eventual winner, beating Joe Clark for the position of party leader.

John Crosbie finished a strong third in the race, and many feel he had the best campaign speech of the campaign on Friday night. He was ably supported by Newfoundland Premier Brian Peckford.

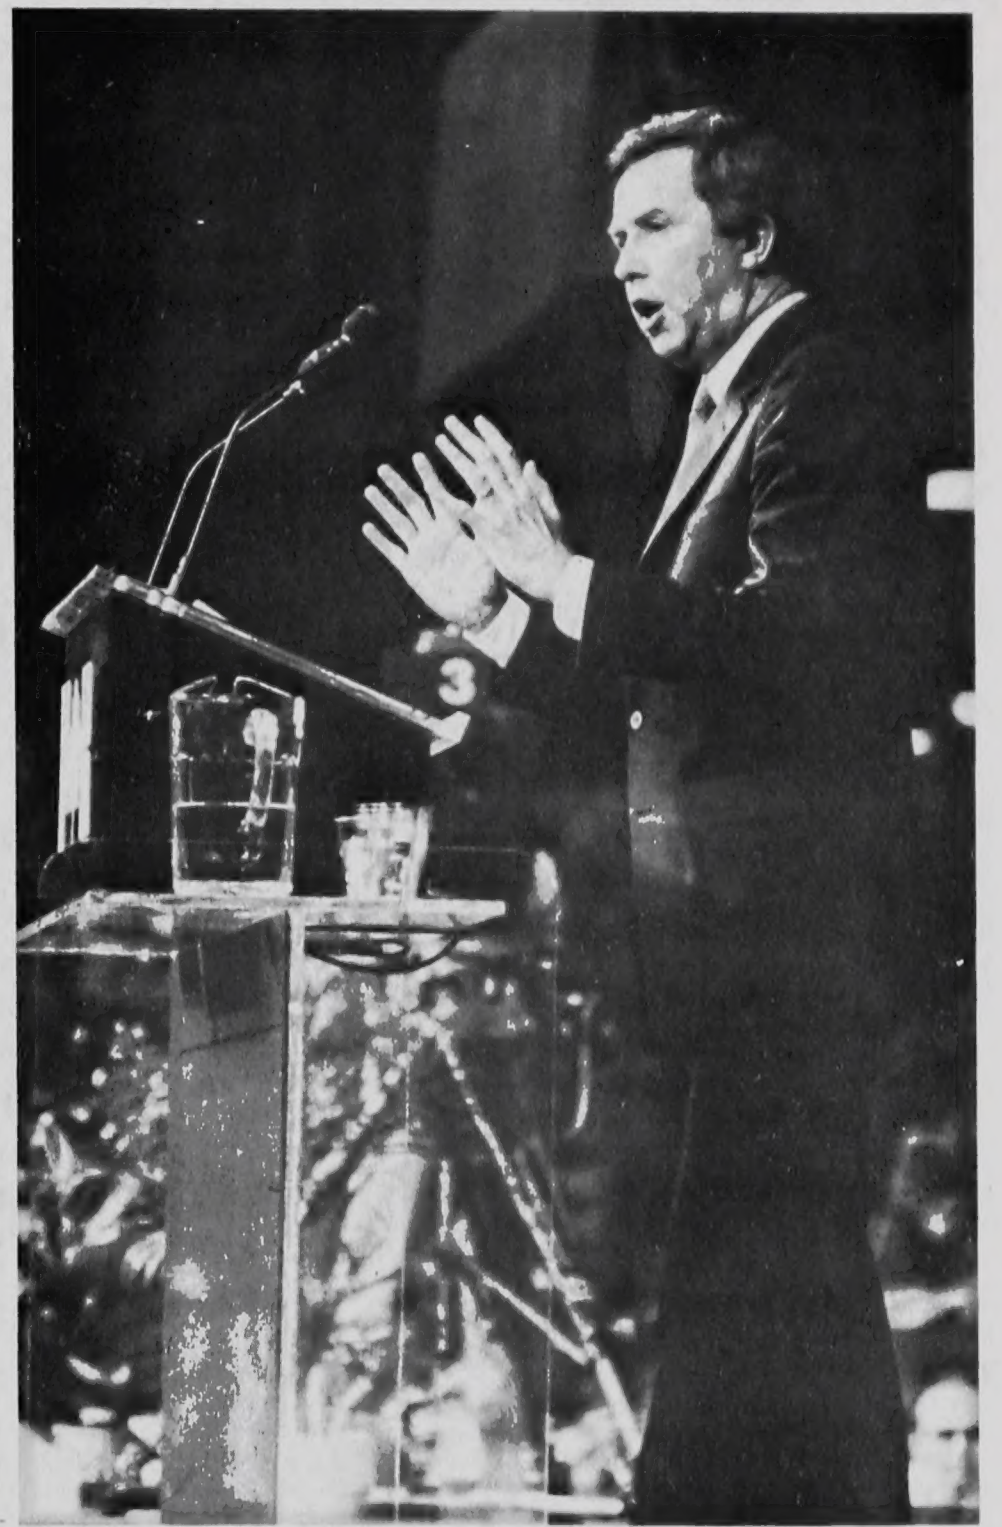

Victoria-Haliburton MP Bill Scott was one of the estimated 8,300 people who enjoyed a steak and corn roast outside the Civic Centre.

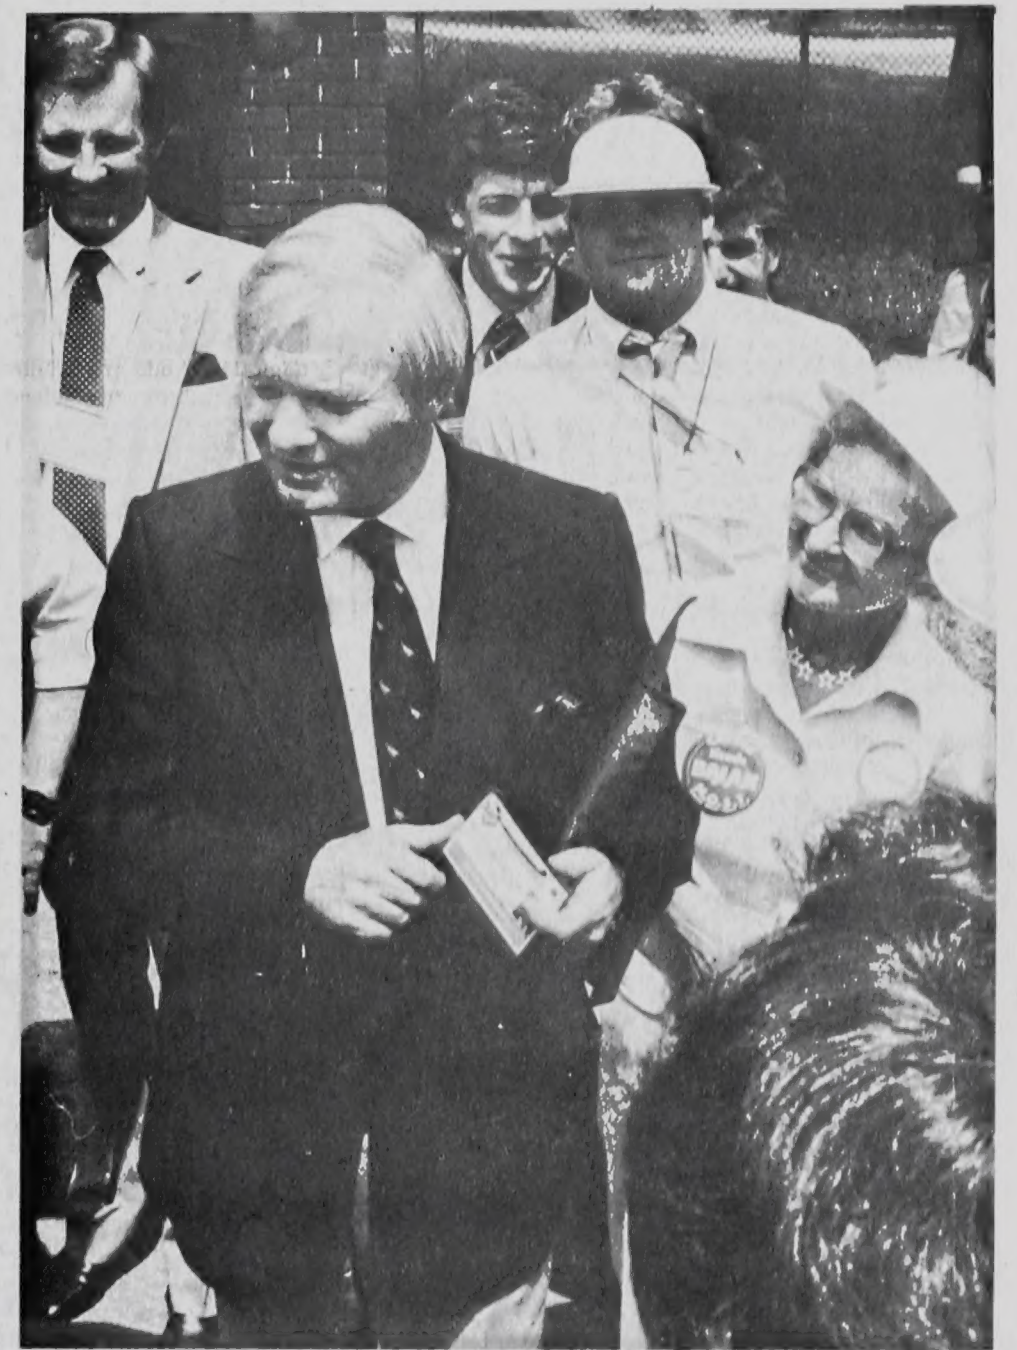

Michael Wilson was to bow out of the running before the second ballot -- and eventually threw his support to candidate Brian Mulroney. Barb Dawson had backed Wilson on the first ballot.

The large crowd was frequently called upon to cheer -- and for each delegate there were several observers, party workers and members of the media corps.

Joe Clark made a plea for party unity in his Friday speech -- but Barb Dawson reports that nearly all the candidates spoke on the same theme.

Ontario Premier William Davis was one of the nearly 3,000 voting delegates casting a ballot Saturday. The cagey politician never revealed who he was supporting in the campaign.

Delegates were really enjoying themselves -- and were being entertained by bands and singers throughout the weekend. Barb Dawson, near the bottom right of this photo, arrived to fanfare from Mulroney supporters as she registered to vote.

Noisy demonstrations (the Clark supporters are at the left, Mulroney's are at the right) preceded the voting Saturday. The air, however, was very friendly, according to Barb Dawson. The talk, of course, revolved around one issue -- the selection of a party leader. Dawson said the party was unified by the convention.

PC convention united the party: Barb Dawson

all there for the same reason."

The parties weren't the normal dance you might expect -- they were talk sessions. Steve Dawson said that even while live bands played in the background, people simply talked politics -- and well into the night.

On Saturday, after a very light breakfast, the Dawsons discovered they could obtain only popcorn at the Ottawa Civic Centre. They "hadn't had any dinner at all" on the Friday, and didn't fare much better Saturday.

Steve Dawson was also helping out pollsters Dr. George Perlin and Allan Gregg -- whose calculations for the first ballot results were "dead on."

After Wilson went on, Barb Dawson found herself "besieged by TV cameras" as reporters tried to find out who she would be supporting next.

"They didn't pressure me...but they asked me to please come back and talk to them once I'd made up my mind," she said.

The speeches, with "only John Crosbie really 'pounding out' a good one. The demonstrations, as well, were "very orchestrated" and organizers used airhorns and flags to lead the workers and delegates in chants, songs, and marches.

The best thing of all, she said, was the absence of instant analysis from TV commentators. Unlike watching the event on TV, delegates "had to do their own thinking."

As the final results were about to be announced, there was a spontaneous singing of the national anthem. "It was extremely moving," she said.

And as the Dawson family arrived at the Chateau Laurier for a wind-up dinner, they saw former leader Joe Clark given a rousing cheer and supportive chants of "Joe, Joe, Joe" as he left.

The party, she said, appeared to be "coming together" behind Mulroney. She stressed once more that she was pleased by "the lack of game playing" and the "good feeling" among those present.

The organizer of the event was Rusty Wunker of Miners Bay.

Norland Natter

by KELLY GRAHAM
The Norland opportunity shop will open June 28 at the Women's Institute Hall in Norland.

Following that it will be open every Tuesday and Saturday from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. and will close for the season on September 10. They would appreciate any donations of good used clothes.

Well, I just returned from the Victoria County Elementary School track and field meet at Lindsay where the Northern Schools (Norland, Coboconk, Burnt River, Kirkfield, Kinmount), combined their best athletes to take first place with 153 points. Once again Norland and the North End has triumphed.

Congratulations to John Hill of Kinmount who received a gold trophy in the senior boys' division.

The number one song on 1050 CHUM for the week starting June 4 was Flashdance by Irene Cara.

Don't forget about the flea market and rummage sale at the Norland Community hall on June 18 at 9:30 a.m. Following that there will be an afternoon tea at 1:30 p.m. At four there will be the release of balloons from the great balloon race-a-thon.

Also the new Kawartha Water Safety Program swim registration will be on Saturday, June 18 at the Coboconk Lion's Hall from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The euchre scores for Thursday, June 10 were as follows: ladies high - Flo Penrose; men's high - Ziggy; ladies low - Debbie Chynoweth; men's low - Tom Bowins; Skunkers - Debbie Chynoweth and Beaches Park, Paul Lightfoot and Joan Bowins.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fryer has just returned home from British Columbia where she had a very enjoyable month's holiday. Her sister Marjorie returned here with her, and they attended a nurses reunion in Toronto and enjoyed that. Also Mrs. Fryer's sister returned to British Columbia June 11.

Mr. Paul Demoe is in the hospital following an accident with his tractor and was forced to spend the night trapped. He was found in the morning. Fortunately he only suffered injuries to his leg and is reported to be recovering nicely.

As of June 10 high school students are off and studying hard for exams.

I notice the store being renovated at the four corners is really coming along well. I am eagerly anticipating the grand opening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Buxcey had a visit from Mrs. Buxcey's brother and sister-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. Buxcey also just returned from a trip to England. They had a great time but there was a lot of rain.

George and Jean Henderson, formerly of Norland have left our fair town, to live in Weston, Ontario.

Mrs. Pyke and Jackie had some friends, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carr, visiting them from Mount Albert. They just stayed for one day.

Anyone interested in serving as representatives on the Victoria County Board of Education Northern School Study Committee are asked to meet at Norland Public School on Tuesday, June 21 at 7 p.m.

There have been numerous fires lately at the Norland dump site. The Norland council suspects that some of them may have been set deliberately and are offering a $300 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the persons involved.

Don't forget my phone number, 454-3707.

Several neighbors are on the sick list and have been in Ross Memorial Hospital. They are Jessie Cameron, Joe Whalen, Garnet Parell and Lily Ludlow who is in Civic Hospital, Peterborough.

Paul Demoe escaped death last week when a tractor he was unloading, in a private road off the Buller Road at Norland, toppled on him, pinning him underneath for part of a day, all night and part of next day before he was found. Apparently, one leg is in rough shape but all in all, Paul could have been more seriously hurt. Hope you can soon be home again, Paul.

The local business establishments have been working super hard to put Coby on the map! The very noticeable signs on the different approaches as one comes into town are a friendly "Welcome to Coboconk" so those passing through will at least remember the name even if they do not stop. The Horticulture Society has the rock garden planted and everyone has the spirit of "Hey, this is a pretty, friendly, village and we welcome you!"

Debbie's ice cream stand is busy these warm days.

Winners in the past two weeks seniors card games are as follows:

Euchre -- ladies first: Helen Alguire, 76; ladies second: Dorothy Stamp, 73; most lone hands: Helen Alguire, 45; consolation: Inga Wassel, 45.

Gent's first: Donald Alguire, 76; gent's second: Gordon Jewell, 73; most lone hands: D. Brown, three; consolation: Eunice Kingdon, 45.

Bridge first -- Hayden Nelson, 6450; second -- Vi Gagne, 6150; consolation -- Alex Gagne, 950.

Euchre -- ladies first: Helen Harper, 77; second: Robinette Harding, 71; most lone hands: Robinette Harding; consolation: Kay Clodd; gent's first, Donald Alguire, 80; gent's second, Ann King, 80; most lone hands, Don Alguire, six; consolation, Tony Kenneth, 43.

Bridge first, Ed Hollands, 4750; second, Evelyn Sheats, 4570; consolation Lloyd Western, 970.

Coboconk senior ladies softball team is having a yard and bake sale on June 18 at 9 a.m. in the Vicpy parking lot. In the event of rain, it will be held in Vicpy's warehouse. If you have any items to donate please call Debbie at 454-1107 to arrange pickup or drop any items off at Souters Variety. Any donations will be greatly appreciated.

I, for one, enjoyed a meeting with new manager Stephanie Foster at the home of Mary Snodden at Kinmount on Tuesday evening.

Monday evening, members of Coboconk LOBA enjoyed a pot luck lunch at the home of Rotha Bryant at Norland. It was the 35th anniversary of the Coby Orange Lodge. Work on the lawn area of the Legion Park is underway. Soon that old swamp will be as lovely as any golf course. And a great improvement to the area.

A lot of hard work will go into this project but it will be worth it all!

The late Mrs. Caton's former Lakewood Lodge at the end of Water and Albert Streets has been sold. The Wests have used the buildings for private use but perhaps now we will have full-time occupants.

I happened by the Band N takeout restaurant shortly after 4:00 p.m. on Thursday. That is just beyond the Go Cart track on Hwy. 48, west of town near Victoria Road turn. Smoke was billowing out under eaves of building. I turned around and went back and met the Kirkfield Fire Department coming to the assistance of the owners. I hear some ten thousand dollars damage was done by the fire so that will spoil part of the summer business. How sad for owners to suffer this loss.

"An optimist is a fellow who takes the cold water that has been thrown on his proposition, heats it with enthusiasm, makes steam, and pushes ahead."

The cool rainy weather did not seem to deter people from trekking to our area for the holiday weekend, but some did leave early relieving the congested traffic condition going south on 11 and 400 on Monday. The miserable weather does cause us discomfort, keeps us from getting at our gardens, etc. but we are thankful that we do not have earthquakes, tornadoes or any real disaster to contend with, where lives are lost and great damage to property occurs.

Audrea Tracey has returned from Carfu, Greece where she spent several weeks visiting her daughter Wendy and her husband James Chatto. On May 21 the Chatto's became the proud parents of an eight-pound boy, Joseph Thomas, and Audrea says he is beautiful, natch, Audrea and Weldon reside on Long Lake, Rte 117.

And the big one didn't get away, this time. Last week a young man, Darren Cheeseman, of Bramalea, landed a 19 pound pike, 41 inches long, in a lake near Dorset. A beautiful specimen of a fish.

Lloyd and May McKey of Hespeler, visited relatives in Dorset, over the long weekend.

The Dorset Senior Club was entertained one afternoon last week by the pupils of the Dorset School. They put on a play and sang songs under the capable direction of their music teacher, Mr. Glidden, some of them taking us back to our own youth.

Old Dan Tucker, for instance. They were very entertaining and greatly enjoyed by the seniors, who wish to give them hearty thanks.

A lovely buffet dinner was held at the home of Ann and Ed Bew, on Ronville Road, on Friday, May 27 in honor of Ray and Libby Porth. Father Porth is the new incumbent at St. Mary Magdalene's Anglican Church, Dorset. There was a good turnout with lots of delicious food. The Bew's home is beautifully situated on the lake not far from Ronville Lodge and a very pleasant evening was spent getting acquainted after everyone had satisfied their hunger pangs with the sumptuous repast.

The Dorset Lion's Club held their annual father, son and daughter banquet last week but this year many more children were added to the guest list, many who didn't have a Lion member as a daddy. The event was catered by the Dorset Life-liners, who give their time and effort non-gratis, and there were 50 turkey dinners served, with over half the diners being children. The feast was followed by films being shown, by Mike Buss of the Frost Centre.

The Dorset Senior Club is contemplating holding Wednesday evening openings at the Centre, during July and August. People would be welcome to drop in for shuffle board, ping pong, darts or card games, maybe just friendly conversation. Think about it; something to do on Wednesday evenings.

H.H. When baking bread, or anything with yeast, cover the dough and place a hot water bottle under the pan. This provides the even constant heat needed and the dough rises beautifully.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Ineson of Lutterworth Estates paid a very pleasant, surprise visit to the home of Bill and Dora Lilley recently. Dora Bill and Mr. Ineson had been Simpson's employees some years back.

Then, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bassett of North Hatley, Quebec were very special guests of the Lilleys.

Last March, when Bill was subscribing to the Eastern Township Sun, he included a note stating he had attended school in North Hatley and knew many of the folks in that area. Russell Bassett saw the note and the visit followed.

He says he remembers Bill taking him as a small boy for rides in the model T-Ford. Bill knew Russell's father when they went to school together and later when they were in service together. Russell said he'd been trying to find the Lilley's for 20 years. It was a lovely visit and Dora said "it pays to advertise." Not to stop there, Mr. and Mrs. Stenforth of Beeton spent the weekend at the Lilley home along with Wayne and Carol Smith of Toronto. Another daughter of the Lilleys, Juanita Smith, spent a week recently, in Germany, on business for her company.

Don't forget the Retirement Tea to be held for retiring school principal Isabel Austin. It will be held on Sunday, June 26 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the Kinmount Community Hall. Everyone is welcome.

Another date to remember is the meeting to be held at the Kinmount Public School, Thursday, June 16 at 7 p.m. about The Beginning of Northern School Study. All parents and interested parties are invited to attend.

Have you been to the Dominion Hotel dining room in Minden lately? I hear they have Chinese food there now which is absolutely delicious. My good man was there last Friday afternoon and sampled the egg rolls.

His diagnosis: "best I've ever tasted!" The new cook is a former chef from the Lichee Gardens in Toronto. We'll certainly be trying their new cuisine very soon. There will also be takeout service and for this you may call 286-1751.

Results of the St. Patrick's CWL card party Tuesday, June 7: ladies high, Clara Watson; ladies low, Nora Crego; mens high, Dave McNamara; mens low, Esther Graham; lone hands, Sam Duffy. There were seven tables.

Aileen Brown, Martha Mansfield, and Clara Watson were three of the 250 people who attended the CWL Peterborough Diocese 61st annual convention which was held at St. Joseph's Parish Council in Powassan on May 29 and 30. Thanks to George Brown for driving the ladies to the convention. They stayed over at "Logout Inn" at Callender, Ontario.

June 4 was a day of remembrance of one of the best dart tournaments of the year for the Bacon, Roach Memorial Trophies at the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 441 in Kinmount. There was a very good attendance with teams from Lindsay, Cobocook, Omemee, Haliburton, Beaverton, Cannington, Bobcaygeon and of course, Kinmount. The winners of team play was Lindsay's team number one with second place going to Kinmount's number two team. Third place was taken by Cobocook team number two. High score in team play went to John Windrum with 180. Ladies' high score was won by Monica Hall in team play, 100. High score in doubles was also won by John Windrum 140 and ladies' high in the doubles was taken by Eileen Downes of Cannington.

ton. 125. The double winners were Cobocook's Al Weaver and John Weaver. Runners up were Paul Tracey and Peggy Hall of Cobocook. Third place went to Walter and Thelma Lindsay. Singles winner was John Windrum with second place going to Dick Morgan. Both of these boys are Kinmount's own.

The Sports Committee raffled off a beautiful pair of cushions, donated by Betty Bacon and won by Albert Crego. A jar of dill pickles was won by Mike Downes. Games ended at 9:30 p.m. It was a very well-operated day by his lordship Albert Crego and was very much enjoyed by all. Albert wishes to thank the ladies for the delicious lunches. John Windrum for his capable assistance and all who turned out to help make it a wonderful day.

Some dates to remember: Saturday, June 18 from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. a dance, to be held at the Kinmount Legion Hall with music supplied by D.J.'s Terry and George. Admittance six dollars per couple.

The Township of Galway-Cavendish celebrates its official opening of "Galway Hall". June 18 on the Galway Road, five miles south of Kinmount. A Wintario project. The program is as follows -- 3:30 p.m. official opening; 4:30 p.m. - 6:00 p.m. reception; 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. buffet dinner; 8:30 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. dance; 11 p.m. early bird draw - gas bar-b-q, midnight - lunch.

Plan to attend and enjoy a fun day. All proceeds from this event will be donated to the Community Centre Building Fund. Held under authority of the LLBO. Get your tickets early and be in on the fun. Dinner $6 for adults, $3 under 12 years and for the dance $4.

A little something taken from the Haliburton County Home Support Services: "An elderly farm couple sat in their rocking chairs in front of the fireplace one wintry night. "The years are passing us by, Sarah" said the old man. "Yes," she agreed. "We're getting older" he said, "and pretty soon one of us will be left alone." "That's right" she said, "and when that happens, I'm moving to California."

A young lad of nine years living in Scotland, has been given six months to live. He has leukemia. He has one goal, to be in the Guinness Book of World Records as having received a record number of post cards. Let's help him out. Address a card to: Buddy, Box 26, Paisley, Glasgow, Scotland.

Senior Citizens' Week Event: Activity Day -- Monday, June 20; Pinestone Inn. In last week's column I quoted one of our newest citizens as being named Joshua Richard Bryan Crego. To set the record straight and get this little guy off to a good start, let's at least get his name right! It's Joshua Richmond Bryan Crego. (Bad Aunt Gladys).

Lindsay Presbyterial UCW meets

The executive members of Lindsay Presbyterial UCW met at Haliburton United Church on Monday, June 6 with Thea Brandsma, President, presiding. Welcome was extended on behalf of Haliburton UCW by June Devolin.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Joyce Poulson, secretary. Correspondence consisted of a letter from Belleville Presbyterial, and also a letter received regarding orientation for UCW members who will be travelling to Korea in 1984 on an exchange visit.

Each UCW was reminded that the self-determination which they set should be met as the Mission and Service Fund needs to be increased by a minimum of ten per cent in order to keep up with inflation costs.

A recommendation will be sent to Conference UCW that the World Outreach

Portfolio be the responsibility of the first vice-president.

Muriel Corneli, Dorothy McKague, Pat Parker, Joan Gladwin, Thelma Endicott, June Devolin, Nora Bagshaw, Florence Harrison will be the UCW representatives to Presbytery along with Thea Brandsma and Marg Gilson.

Brenda Robinson, Youth coordinator, stated that a weekend event for youth is planned for this fall. Information for youth programs will be sent to UCW presidents and they will be responsible for passing the information on to youth leaders in their congregations.

Olive McDonald and Pat Parker of the World Outreach committee dialogued on a workshop they had attended at Belleville. "Ten commandments for tourists" for people visiting foreign countries was read by Olive McDonald. Thelma Endicott, stewardship secretary, distributed a copy of a letter she had received from Marion Sedgwick in Papua, New Guinea. Leola English stated that volunteers were needed for the Fair booth at Lindsay fair, and requested anyone volunteering get in touch with her. Ellen Grills, supply secretary, stated that clothes and toys were needed at the Home for battered women in Peterborough. She will be Supply Convenor for Conference UCW in 1984. Doreen McAlpine, social issues secretary, reminded members to have signatures sent in to Amnesty International regarding prisoners of conscience. Neta MacArthur of the A.D.A. Task Force, urged UCW's to write Members of Parliament regarding the drinking age, as well as alcohol and drug problems. Other officers present reported briefly.

Women's events will be held at Camp Quin-Mo-Lac on September 9-11; and the mid-week one at Fenelon Falls on Nov. 8-9. An open meeting will be held in the evening at Fenelon Falls on Nov. 8 for anyone not registered who may wish to attend.

To conclude the meeting, a worship service was conducted by Lillian Nixon of Manila. She read Luke 10: 38-42, and gave a short devotional on "Mary and Martha." In conclusion she reminded us that even though we are Christians each one has been brought up in a different way and with different ideas and we have to give and take a great deal in order to get along with each other.

The Home Show

Linda Coneybeare of Lindsay Travel drew the lucky winner's name from the barrel Sunday, to determine who would win an all-expense paid trip to Toronto -- with accomodation at the Royal York and limousine service. The winner was G. Maurice of RR 1 Perkinsfield, Ontario.

There were bargains galore for shoppers at the home show over the weekend. Every booth was sold right out, and dozens of door prizes were distributed. This is the fifth year the event has been held.

Kinsmen Sheldon Nicholls (left) and Jim Tice were on hand for the official opening ceremony at the show Friday at noon. Murray Fearrey, the reeve of Dysart et al, cut the ceremonial ribbon. By Friday evening a large crowd had converged on the Dysart Community Centre.

show, held at the arena, was a success over the weekend.

HUDAC NEW HOME WARRANTY PROGRAM

At the 46th Convocation of the University of Waterloo on May 28, 1983, Karl Dean Minto, son of Robert and Jean Minto of Ingoldsbay, received his Master of Applied Science Degree in Electrical Engineering. Dean is continuing his studies for his Ph.D.

Blown glass is featured

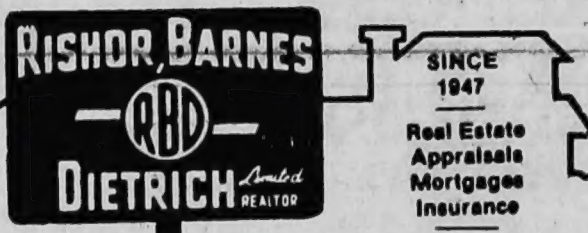

Several artists are taking part in the blown glass exhibition at the Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton. They are Jamie Sherman of Appleby; Peter Gudrunas and Doris Fraser of Sirius Glassworks, St. Williams; Clark Guetta of Rockingham Glassworks. Each of these artists uses a creative procedure which is only 25 years old.

Unlike European glassblowing, which requires five or six people, this method needs only one person. While the craftpersons' methods and tools remain the same as the European model, the individual approaches the procedure differently. One of the artists participating in the exhibition compares the art of glassblowing to that of music, "it's a matter of improvisation, working with time and rhythm."

The show features a wide range of blown glass: candlestick holders, goblets, bowls, vases, paperweights, and plates. The colors of the pieces are particularly appealing: rose pink, sapphire blue, ebony black and opal.

Most of the blown glass pieces are for sale and would make perfect wedding gifts.

THE HALIBURTON HIGHLANDS HOSPITALITY TRAINING CENTRE

ONE DAY WORKSHOP WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15

The Haliburton Highlands Hospitality Training Centre is putting on a one day workshop, Wednesday, June 15. The seminar has been set up specifically for staff employed by owners and operators of facilities who are actively involved in the hospitality training centre program.

Because unemployment is one of the prerequisites to attend the 18-week course at the training centre, concern was expressed that individuals already employed in the industry would not benefit from the Hospitality Training Centre. Wednesday's workshop is one of several seminars that will be offered for people in the hospitality field.

The program is being taught by the instructors at the Training Centre, Rebecca Parkes, Pat Burns and Bill Hicks. The topics to be covered are, the importance of working as a team, effective communication skills and dealing with customer complaints.

But you didn't go alone, For part of me went with you, dear mom, The day God called you home. Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by daughter Eileen and family, (Mrs. Ken Maguire). 32-P-15

Committee wants more information

We would like to ask if Ottawa has received as yet, any results of further studies on Tordon Picloram. If so, could we please have a copy?

We would like to request the temporary suspension of Tordon Picloram in Canada and suggest that Ottawa carry out its own thorough testing, (providing further study results are not forthcoming from the United States in the near future, or are inconclusive).

Due to recent allegations of fraud against a laboratory in the United States in connection with apparently falsified results on the safety of some 200 pesticides, we would also like to recommend that Ottawa considers conducting and relying more on its own testing of chemicals prior to their registration, and less on input from the United States.

We are assuming, of course, and it does appear that whilst many chemicals are tested by Ottawa some chemicals are merely subject to "review of research from other countries", some-times including Canada. Research obtained from the Ontario Ministry of Environment's Pesticides Advisory Committee on Tordon merely consists of a review of conflicting research from the United States, which we feel is inadequate grounds for approval of its use.

It is interesting to note that the Swedish researcher Dr. Mikael Eriksson, who's studies have linked a five to seven times increase in two rare types of cancer to the use in Sweden of 2,4,5T and 2,4,D stated recently "the only people who dispute the finding are those 'industrially connected.'"

Gold is name of the game says reader

Editor's Note: The following letter appeared in the Northern Miner, and was forwarded to us by J.C. Honsberger.

Editor, The Northern Miner:

Gold is the Name of the Game - and Hemlo is the best gold development in Ontario in perhaps 50 years, found by junior mining companies and entrepreneurs from Vancouver, B.C., who were literally driven out of Ontario over the years by the Ontario Securities Commission.

If Ontario and Canada are to come out of the present horrendous recession (the worst in 50 years) the junior mining companies in Ontario must be allowed to raise the large amounts of risk capital required to find and develop these ore deposits.

This all-important objective can only be accomplished through drastic and long overdue constructive changes within the OSC or perhaps some other public body to take its place. The OSC long ago went far beyond the purpose for which it was originally created.

Computers eyed by AHM council

The computer age has extended its reach into Anson, Hindon and Minden.

Councillors were briefed on the advantages of a line of computer systems by Gary Anderson of Minden. It was one of many items dealt with at a busy Thursday meeting of council last week.

Anderson explained the selling points of the system -- its "reliability, flexibility and expandability." He pointed out that, as a Minden resident, he was "just a phone call away" for servicing the machines and suggested that the municipality invest in two terminals "for the times when the office gets crazy."

He quoted a cost of $16,800 and $6,500 -- which includes staff training.

"But can we play Pacman?" quipped Coun. Gary Kenney.

Council included the computer system -- to be used for municipal accounts and reports -- in their 1983 budget, approved two weeks ago.
